Five arrested and drugs seized in multiple raids

BY ROB GIBSON
rob.gibson@mk-news.co.uk

FIVE men were arrested as police seized thousands of pounds of heroin, cannabis and amphetamines during a string of drug raids across the city.

Officers carried out two raids last Wednesday in Tinkers Bridge and Oldbrook and one on Friday in the city centre.

The bounty included £2,000 worth of heroin, £13,000 worth of amphetamines and 500 cannabis plants.

The clampdown began at 7.30am on Wednesday when officers executed a warrant at a house in Bastoke, Tinkers Bridge.

They seized a significant quantity of heroin, drugs paraphernalia and mobile phones and arrested three men, aged 20, 36 and 39, on suspicion of possession with intent to supply Class A drugs.

The men, all from Milton Keynes, have been released on police bail until May.

The raid was part of the Force's Operation Falcon, a campaign to stamp out class A drug dealers and reduce drug-driven crime.

At 3pm police raided another home, in Edrich Avenue, Oldbrook, where they uncovered 500 cannabis plants and arrested one man.

Binh Nguyen, 28, from London, pleaded not guilty to cultivating cannabis with intent to supply and will reappear at Milton Keynes Magistrates' court tomorrow.

The number of successful cannabis raids in Milton Keynes this year is unprecedented, with 19 farms closed already and 6,507 plants seized and destroyed.

PC Marc Walters said: "We will continue to shut them down and put a stop to drug dealers coming into Milton Keynes and setting up cannabis factories.

"There could possibly be other cannabis factories in other estates in MK and it is vital residents of MK should be aware of any signs of cannabis factories and contact the police if they suspect anything."

Finally, at 10.50am on Friday police stormed a property on North Fourteenth Street in Central Milton Keynes, seizing £13,000 worth of amphetamines.

Stephen Edward Hillary, 52, was arrested and charged with possession and intent to supply a class B drug.

He appeared in court on Saturday and has been remanded in custody.

A 40-year-old woman was also arrested at the property on suspicion of possession with intent to supply but was later released without charge.

Detectives said that each raid was made possible thanks to intelligence received from residents in the community.

DC Chris Montgomery said: "Community intelligence is key in the fight to tackle drug misuse and the supply of drugs and we urge anyone with information to contact us or call Crimestoppers anonymously as their information can help us put a stop to drugs in our city."

■ Anyone with information can contact the police on 08458 505505 or contact the Crimestoppers charity anonymously on 0800 555111.

No hiding place for car window tinters

Dark screens a 'no-no' as cops use light meter to check visibility

BY LAURA HANNAM
laura.hannam@mk-news.co.uk

Sgt Chris Appleby with the 'Tintman' monitor for checking car windows

POLICE have fined 17 drivers in one morning in a crackdown on tinted windows.

Thames Valley Police has bought 11 new 'Tintman' devices as part of efforts to reduce the number of accidents.

The gadgets, which cost £600 each, measure the transmission of light through a surface.

Yesterday morning (April 15) up to 15 road safety officers were out and about across Milton Keynes spotting drivers whose windscreens and front side windows were tinted.

The vehicles were then taken to the Hockey Stadium, Central Milton Keynes where the windows were tested using the devices.

Seven drivers whose vehicle windows let less than 30 per cent of light through were given a £30 fine and their vehicles were prohibited from being driven on the road until the tint was removed.

Ten drivers whose windows were letting through between 30 and 45 per cent of light were given a fixed penalty of £30 and, one driver was given an advisory notice to resolve the issue.

John Bulman, road safety constable for Milton Keynes said: "There is now more of a likelihood of being stopped for tinted windows in Milton Keynes than ever before, as the number of devices has trebled.

"Every day there will now be a police officer with one of these devices out in the Milton Keynes area.

"So the message to drivers is 'beware', as we want them to take the tint off before we find them and have to enforce the law."

He added: "This crack down is happening across the country as in 40 per cent of all fatal and serious accidents one of the main causes is that the driver did not see.

"The law is that 75 per cent of the light outside must get into the car.

"Some of the cars we have found you would be lucky to get five per cent of light outside coming through.

"At night they are literally driving blind."

Dog bit boy while being walked

A 10-YEAR-OLD boy was attacked by a pet rottweiler that was out of control, a court has heard.

The boy was left with deep lacerations after the dog bit into his arm on December 1 last year, at Swanwick Lane, Broughton.

On Thursday a 17-year-old girl, who cannot be named for legal reasons, pleaded guilty to being the owner of a dog which was dangerously out of control in a public place.

She broke down in tears as the prosecution described the attack.

Peter Lovegrove said the girl's disabled mother and 10-year-old brother had taken the large dog, called Kane, for a walk without its muzzle.

He said: "During the walk, while on a lead, Kane charged at another 10-year-old boy and attacked him, causing deep wounds to the boy's arm. They pulled it off and the aggrieved ran home and told his mother."

The prosecution applied for the destruction of the rottweiler and compensation for the victim.

Janita Patel, defending the girl, said: "This is a very tragic case.

"She loves Kane very much and tells me she is responsible for the dog. She says he was always on a lead and muzzled and behaved responsibly while she was with it.

"She has always said 'no one takes Kane out but me'.

"Her mother and brother defied her orders. She would rather have the dog signed over to the RSPCA than be destroyed."

Although the defendant was not with the dog at the time, the crime is a strict liability offence which makes the owner responsible for the dog.

Magistrates adjourned the case for a probation report before sentencing next month.

Gay pride parade to cap arts festival

A MARDI Gras carnival will form part of a new arts festival at this year's Big Moo weekend.

The weekend festival was a hit last year and this year it will see the launch of the Milton Keynes Fringe Festival of the Arts including the city's first gay pride parade.

The festival will take place from July 11 to 13.

Organiser Gavin Anderson said: "Milton Keynes is coming of age and we need to celebrate our local culture and art.

"It has been talked about MK having an art festival for years, it just needed somebody to get everybody together.

"By art I meant visual, audio, performance all aspects, from street running to storytelling.

"We will also by aiming to stage Milton Keynes first Mardi Gras on the Sunday night, a street parade and carnival."

The Big Moo is run by MK Consortium but the arts festival will be run by a separate steering committee.

Art will be showcased at retailers in thecentre:mk, Midsummer Place, thehub:mk, Xscape and The Church of Christ the Cornerstone.

There will be arts and crafts tents and a free sculpture area where the public can create art from rubbish and materials.

The Fringe Festival of the Arts is expected to attract film makers, painters, performers and musicians, and will culminate in the city's first gay pride parade.

Underweight: One of the ponies left in the care of public school head Deborah Birkin by her daughters

Headmistress let Shetlands starve

BY LAURA HANNAM
laura.hannam@mk-news.co.uk

A HEADMISTRESS from a private school has pleaded guilty to causing unnecessary suffering to two Shetland ponies.

Deborah Berkin, 51, head of the Grove School in Loughton, has been banned from keeping horses and ponies for the next ten years and was ordered to pay costs of more than £4,000 at Milton Keynes Magistrates Court on Friday (April 11).

The court heard that two Shetland ponies, owned by Mrs Berkin, were seen in a small paddock by her rented house at Hatch Hill Farm, Lillingstone Dayrell, Bucks by an RSPCA inspector on September 13, 2007.

Inspector Kirsty Hampton's statement, read out in court by RSPCA prosecutor Janita Patel, said the ponies' spines and haunches were visible, they had no access to water or hay and the paddock was covered in faeces.

The inspector returned on November 13 to find a similar situation and, believing the animals were severely underweight, called a vet.

The vet's statement said both ponies appeared to have had inadequate food for several months and had been dehydrated for approximately a day.

Representing Mrs Berkin, Mr Dewsbury said the ponies, named Hobby and Jazz, had been kept by Mrs Berkin's daughters, one of whom is studying veterinary care, for around five years.

They recently left home leaving the animals in Mrs Berkin's care – she had no experience with keeping ponies.

Mrs Berkin moved the animals to a smaller field after their summer paddock became waterlogged, but did not realise they would have less grass to graze and need to be fed more hay, the court heard.

"The two offences have been caused by her ignorance of the care needed to look after these animals," said Mr Dewsbury.

"She bitterly regrets that her treatment of those two ponies fell below the standard expected of her. She has since wished she had asked for help. Perhaps her mind was on the difficult and stressful job she had rather than looking after her daughters' horses."

Mrs Berkin pleaded guilty to two charges – at an earlier hearing she had initially pleaded not guilty to three offences.

She was ordered to pay a total of £4,757.29p, including court costs and vets fees, and given a conditional discharge.

Ex-'special' told he didn't have skills to be cops' support officer

BY ROB GIBSON
rob.gibson@mk-news.co.uk

A FORMER special constable who earned a medal for 11 years service to Milton Keynes police was stunned when he was told he did not have the skills to become a Police Community Support Officer.

Dave Neil's application to become a PCSO was rejected despite the fact he had patrolled the streets of Newport Pagnell from 1990 to 2001 as a special.

Mr Neil, who lives in Giffard Park, noticed the latest recruitment campaign for PCSOs in Milton Keynes and decided to apply because his job as a security guard was under threat.

But last month he received a letter back from the force saying: 'Sorry we do not feel you have the skills for the position of a PCSO'.

Mr Neil said: "I was infuriated and I threw the letter in the bin.

"I wanted to get back into it and I thought I had the skills for the job.

"As a special constable I had to deal with domestic violence and racism. I've seen PCSO's around Milton Keynes and still can't work out what criteria is used to be accepted."

Dave Neil with the long service medal he recieved for his time as a special constable

Mr Neil, 59, called the applications department, where a member of staff apologised but could not provide any answers.

Concerned that he may have been rejected because of his age, Mr Neil wrote to the HR department and has tried to contact the chief constable but has had no response from either.

He said: "When I applied I asked if my age was a problem but I was told they could get at least five years service out of me. It's a joke.

"It smacks of ageism."

Special constables work on a voluntary basis, wear uniform on duty and have the same powers as regular officers, whereas PCSOs are paid members of support staff employed, directed and managed by the force.

A spokesman for Thames Valley Police said: "We are not able to comment on individual applications; however each application received is assessed against the competencies we require for the post.

"We recognise that having employees from different backgrounds with a wide range of skills, attitudes and experiences brings fresh ideas and perspectives and we encourage people to apply irrelevant of their age, gender and ethnic background.

"Mr Neil is welcome to apply again in the future after six months from his original application."

Footbridge justification is not on the level

SIR – You report Milton Keynes Council's justification for proposing footbridges across V4 instead of subways as being that there is insufficient land available.

Ramps to bridges are much longer than those to subways, and take much more land as a result, because the difference in level between road and bridge is much greater than between road and subway.

This is the reason for the increased number of pedestrians crossing grid roads near bridges.

If Milton Keynes Council is seeking to justify its abandonment of the tried and tested road and footpath system it needs to come up with a better excuse than this.

Kevin Emmett
sent by e-mail

Pensioner group more than foot-stampers

SIR – The letter in MK NEWS last week from David Hammond suggesting that all the Milton Keynes Pensioners' Association does is stamp our feet and make a lot of noise.

For the record I would like to inform Mr Hammond and your readers exactly what the association does here in Milton Keynes.

We invite retired people at the age of 59 to join the association and give their support in any way they wish in campaigning for a better quality of life – equal to pensioners in the EU.

We do this by asking for donations from organisations in Milton Keynes to publish the policy of the association and the National Pensioners' Convention.

We have four executive members on the Home Counties North NPC attending meetings in Luton.

There are two members who are elected to the National Council of the NPC and a member on the National Executive NPC. This meets in London representing pensioners in the three counties involving them in talks with Government ministers.

We also have representation on the NPC National Secretaries Committee.

In February MK pensioners participated in a march through Luton calling for the state pension to be linked to the average wage or prices whichever the greater this year and not be kept waiting until 2012.

We have representation on the Milton Keynes Primary Care Trust, Milton Keynes Hospital Trust, Transport Group and Age Concern all working unpaid to represent our members.

In June we shall be sending five delegates to the Pensioners' Parliament in Blackpool to debate policy issues with pensioners from across Britain on how the Government can improve care for the elderly and to call for the introduction of free nursing care.

For the past four years we have raised money from donations to run a free coach to the House of Commons in support of the NPC lobby of parliament where Milton Keynes pensioners join with others from as far afield as Scotland to lobby their MP.

Two general meetings are held each year in the Civic Offices where members are elected. The executive meets monthly.

The Milton Keynes Pensioners' Association has been acting on behalf of our members who have complained about their problem with the issuing of the country-wide bus pass.

It is therefore the association's obligation to respond to the complaints. That's why they have joined and they have every right to expect their complaint to be taken up.

After four years of campaigning with the NPC we have achieved free travel in England, which Mr Hammond will now enjoy.

We will continue to try and persuade the Government to introduce a nationwide free travel scheme.

Mr Hammond is under a misunderstanding if he believes that his old bus pass is still valid. Yes, in part, but not if he wishes to travel in other areas of England.

We are not asking for more than any other European pensioner.

We too would like free train travel that the Irish have and a free holiday that the Spanish enjoy.

Our main objective is better care of the elderly, a higher state pension and a fairer council tax.

If Mr Hammond would like to talk to us again at the community desk we would be happy to listern to any suggestion on how we can do better.

Dennis Brett
Deputy chairman, Milton Keynes Pensioners Association

■ SIR – I feel that I must take issue with some of the remarks made by David Hammond in his letter about the introduction of the pensioners' bus pass scheme.

Perhaps Mr Hammond is unaware of the full extent of the problems that many pensioners have encountered.

Let me give just two.

A lady I know posted her application form and photographs to the council as requested during the first week of August 2007.

On December 13 she received a letter from the council informing her that 'a number of our records have been mislaid during a recent office move'.

She was requested to re-apply for a pass, which she did the following week. She still has not received her pass.

A friend of mine had the same problem. He also re-applied for a pass. He received his pass last week, but the photograph on the pass was of another person.

What Mr Hammond must realise is that this sort of incompetence can be distressing to old people, and in the two cases mentioned they had to obtain new photographs that they can ill afford.

Finally, this whole fiasco reflects very badly on the council's competence and the security of the application forms, which contain sensitive personal information.

Cash correction

SIR – Thank you for printing the article about the donation of £2,000 from the Milton Keynes Masonic Lodge to the A&E department at Milton Keynes General Hospital.

The money was in fact donated by the Watling Street Masonic Lodge based in Stony Stratford from a raffle at their ladies festival held in February.

Schools' head-to-head the final fallout

SIR – The mess caused by the fallout between Rickley and Rivers is the most appalling waste of public money.

As far as who is to blame, I cannot help but put that firstly at the feet of the education authority by making such a hare-brained decision as that of extending the existing Rivers School and moving it to the Rickley site (and to originally retain the name of Rivers Primary School).

However, what occurred subsequently shows incredible immaturity on behalf of those at Rickley by fighting every single decision.

The final fallout over who should become head of the new school has ALWAYS been known, and the original proposals stated '...the headteachers, at both schools, should be invited to apply for this post and the post should not be advertised more widely unless neither of the two existing post holders is successful in securing the position or neither decided to apply for the post'.

From this it is clear that one or other of the existing heads is not now going to stand for the new position, and both Rivers and Rickley would have been aware of this stipulation from the outset. To now blame Rivers for merely stating what has been known since the proposal in September 2007 is untenable.

I agree that the move to combine the two schools was always going to be difficult, especially one as proposed by the education authority as in this case; however it seems to me that Rickley are being obstructive beyond reproach on issues that were clearly in the public domain from the outset of the public consultation.

If any heads need banging together it is those of the governors at! Rickley (who would form part of the governing body at the new enlarged school anyway). It seems to me as though they wanted their head to be in place and no-one else, or they would take their ball away and wouldn't play.

It is the council taxpayer who has had to pay for this wasted consultation, and who will pay for any future developments and additional consultations.. Shame on all of those involved.

Name and address supplied

Casting doubts

SIR – I read with amazement your article on 'armless April Fools fun (April 9, page 3).

It may have been a bit of fun for the two youngsters who raised money but was it the same fun for people waiting in A&E as valuable NHS time and resources were wasted.

As a recent visitor to the hospital and having a considerable wait to have a plaster fitted, I feel the small sum of £60, although a commendable thought, does not justify the means.

Perhaps next year this pair could find a better way to raise funds.

City recyclers should be excused Pak drill

SIR – After many years of practice I now class myself as an expert on recycling.

I separate paper from household waste (which is composted where applicable).

Plastic bottles are washed and squashed, as are tins.

The windows are taken out of envelopes, shredding is kept separate.

Bottles and jars are washed and put in the blue bin. This bin, when emptied, is left at the end of the street instead of outside the house where it was collected. If you're not quick enough it disappears.

Garden waste is kept in the green wheely bin which is collected and replaced outside the house. Well done green bin men.

I was pleased to see that Tetra Paks are now recyclable. We have to dispose of them ourselves????

If I had wanted to work in recycling I would have applied for the job.

Come on. Don't we do enough sorting and placing in the correct place?

How come the recycling plant can't collect them?

Of course we would wash them and keep them separate :-).

How it will look: Wolverton Station viewed from Stratford Road

All change at Wolverton Station

IMPROVEMENTS to Wolverton Railway Station are set to get the go-ahead.

Plans to replace the existing portakabin-type ticket office are to be discussed by Milton Keynes Council's development control committee tomorrow night (Thursday, April 17).

The application, which has been recommended for approval by council officers, seeks permission for demolition of the existing temporary ticket office with a replacement red brick station building in a new location on the site.

The car park is to be improved and the parking layout revised and, the existing concrete stair access from Stratford Road bridge is to be demolished and replaced by new stairs directly to the East of the station building.

The improvements will use £1.8 million of Government cash.

It is anticipated that construction will start in late summer.

Guilty plea by M1 coach crash driver

Leslie Weinberg: Driver of the coach that overturned at Newport Pagnell services injuring passengers

THE drunken driver of a coach which overturned at Newport Pagnell Services on the M1 has admitted dangerous driving.

Leslie Weinberg, 35, was arrested after being cut from the wreckage of the crash in which 33 passengers were injured, six of them seriously.

The National Express Birmingham to Stansted Scania coach had been due to stop at the MK Coachway at Junction 14, but left the motorway earlier on the southbound slip road to the services, where it overturned and hit trees and a lamp post.

Weinberg, formerly of Meyrick Road in West Bromwich, had a drink drive reading of 145 milligrammes of alcohol in 100 millilitres of blood. The legal limit is 80mg per 100ml.

After the crash, which happened late in the afternoon of September 3 last year, casualties were treated at Northampton, Milton Keynes and Oxford JR2 Hospitals.

One man had his arm amputated.

The seriously injured included a 61-year-old man, a 45- year-old woman from Church Stretton, a 28-year-old man from Coventry, a 39-year-old woman from Worcester, a 60-year-old man from France, a 57-year- old woman from Australia and a 20-year-old man from Poland.

On Monday, bespectacled Weinberg appeared at Aylesbury Crown Court where he pleaded guilty to driving dangerously and driving with excess alcohol.

Defence Barrister Simon Davis asked for the case to be adjourned for up to six weeks for medical reports.

Judge Christopher Tyrer told Weinberg he faced a jail sentence.

The judge told him "This is serious. The circumstances are very grave. As a result of your intoxication, you completely mistook where you were. You mistook the exit of the motorway and a number of people were seriously injured.

"This is way past the custody threshold and you should make arrangements accordingly."

The judge adjourned the case for sentence until May. He passed an interim disqualification order on Weinberg, who was bailed to live and sleep at Nimmings Road, Halesowen in the West Midlands.

V4 footbridge decision deferred

BY LAURA HANNAM
laura.hannam@mk-news.co.uk

THE council has given more time to consider plans to build pedestrian bridges across the V4 after protests from local people.

A recommendation to build three bridges across Watling Street and one across Dansteed Way were discussed by Milton Keynes Council's cabinet on Tuesday April 8.

The cabinet endorsed the plans in principle, but decided that the final decision will be made by Cllr Chris Williams, cabinet member for highways, after consulting with local ward members and town and parish councils.

The grid road runs alongside the Western Expansion Area (WEA), south of Stony Stratford.

WEA developer Redlawn will meet the cost of the construction, estimated at £3million, with the council making a contribution as landowner.

The council held public exhibitions giving two options for pedestrians to cross in March, including the construction of bridges or using the signalised junctions to be placed on the road.

It said underpasses were not a viable alternative because there is not the land available within the boundaries of the road and verge.

An officers report, presented to the cabinet last night, said 63 per cent of local people were in favour of the bridges.

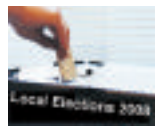
MAYLOCALELECTIONS

Promises, promises

Continuing our preview of this year's elections we look at The Green Party which is contesting two seats and UKIP which is battling for nine seats



UKIP

ALL local services in Milton Keynes suffer from the same handicap - underfunding. Some council funding comes from Council Tax, the rest should come from Government. But Labour government habitually shortchanges councils like Milton Keynes by not sharing out fairly the vast amounts it raises in general taxation.

Instead it prefers playing Lady Bountiful, lavishing huge amounts in foreign aid, and especially swanking around in the EU doling out OUR cash to all and sundry. This money should be spent on our own people. Pensioners, for example, are denied decent pensions just so the Labour Government can cut a dash in Europe by splashing out extravagantly there.

Would the Lib Dems be any better? No wonder both Parties are terrified of honouring their election promises over a referendum on Europe. The Conservatives are not out of the woods on this issue either.

It's the same parsimonious story with education, roads, housing, etc. If voters want more of the same, they should vote Labour or Lib Dem.

Alternatively, voting UKIP will certainly send them a message they can understand.

Green

THE Green Party's priorities are a healthy local environment, decent local services and a strong local voice.

The party says it is the only party opposed to the expansion of Milton Keynes on greenfield sites.

A Green council would hold a referendum on MK expansion and says that existing estates should not be redeveloped without the consent of those already living in them.

Greens also want more social rented housing to reduce waiting lists and homelessness and to see vital local services within walking distance for everyone. Green councillors will protect schools, libraries, post offices and other local services from cuts, closures and privatisation.

They aim to ensure that basic facilities are located within all residential areas of a certain size and, within 15 minutes' walk in all urban and suburban areas

The party also wants to provide a free lunch in all state schools every school day to every pupil, better bus services, and properly maintained redways and to see more recycling and no incinerator in MK.

They oppose the widening of the M1 and would use the money saved to invest in re-instating rail services from MK to Oxford, Aylesbury, Cambridge and Luton and, want to lower speed limits on grid roads to make them safer, to reduce CO2 emissions, to reduce noise for nearby residents and to make them more convenient for buses.

The Greens would introduce a 20mph speed limit in all built-up areas (except trunk roads and grid roads).

Greens are committed to tackling climate change at every level with renewable energy and energy efficiency, not nuclear power.

They want to see solar panels on new houses and support plans for a wind farm near Emberton.

The party would insulate for free every dwelling in England and Wales over the next five years.

Lost records halt patient's inquest

Coroner asks that hospital library be searched for notes

BY LAURA HANNAM

laura.hannam@mk-news.co.uk

THE loss of a patient's notes at Milton Keynes Hospital has delayed an inquest into his death.

John Joseph Cleere, 62, from Gurnards Avenue, Fishermead died in ward seven at the hospital on September 20 2007.

The inquest, held last Thursday (April 10), was adjourned as the hospital had not provided the medical notes for the last five weeks of his life.

Hospital representative Dr Samurai said: "There has been quite an extensive search to find them but unfortunately we have been unable to do that."

"All we can think has happened is that they have been misfiled.

"I can only apologise for the fact the notes are not available, but I am not quite convinced that the last five weeks is the most relevant issue for the inquest.

"Usually the system works really well but here it has just fallen apart."

Mr Cleere suffered from a condition called cavernous sinus thrombosis, the blockage of a large vein at the base of the brain which causes a blood clot to form.

This results in high pressure and can cause epilepsy.

The missing medical notes started from August 14, 2007, when he was transferred to Milton Keynes Hospital for rehabilitation after spending two weeks in the neurological ITU at John Radcliffe II in Oxford.

Dr Samurai argued that Mr Cleere's condition had already deteriorated during his treatment in Oxford, leaving him severely disabled.

On admission to Milton Keynes it was noted that he had weakness on the left side of his body and a chest infection.

A chest x-ray confirmed that he had pneumonia.

Over the next few weeks he continued to deteriorate until he died on September 20.

Deputy coroner Tom Osbourne adjourned the inquest until November, requesting that the hospital make a 'concerted effort' to find the notes and that the medical records library at the hospital be searched.

"And perhaps the hospital should be looking at their protocol," he added.

Mr Cleere's family has concerns about his treatment at the hospital and have reacted angrily.

His wife, Ramona Cleere, told MK NEWS: "I think it is suspicious that the one file that is missing was needed for an inquest."

She claims her husband of 27-years, who loved to make jokes and was a father of three children, was neglected at the hospital.

Wind farm reduction plans

THE number of turbines at a controversial wind farm is to be reduced.

Electricity company npower planned to build 16 wind turbines at Nun Wood, between the villages of Bozeat, Harrold and Lavendon.

But following protests from local people and English Heritage the energy giant has now reduced the number to 12.

In order to make the changes the existing planning application will be withdrawn and a new one resubmitted.

As reported in MK NEWS previously, local pressure group Bozeat and Lavendon Oppose Wind Turbines (BLOT) has slammed the plans since they were announced in August 2006

Family-run Lower Farm Stables, on Castle Road has also claimed the turbines, to be built close to a historic bridleway, will decimate its business.

Owners fear horse riders would no longer be able to use the Three Shires Way, at Nun Wood, as the noise and light disturbance from the 90m blades would create a potential safety hazard.

Npower claims the site is good for a wind farm as it is on a windy ridge.

Cath Stevenson, regional development manager for npower renewables, said: "npower renewables takes consultation responses seriously to ensure that our wind farms are sensitively designed taking into account local factors.

"There is more work to be done on finalising the details of the revised wind farm proposal and this will be completed over the coming months."

Graham Mabbutt, a member of BLOT and Lavendon resident said: "We are delighted that npower has withdrawn its application. We will be watching them and are ready and waiting to fight the second round."

Witnesses 'puzzle' bike death coroner

Ricky Fordham: Killed instantly as his motorbike hit a car near Furzton

BY ROB GIBSON
rob.gibson@mk-news.co.uk

A MOTORCYCLIST was killed in a crash when a driver failed to see him, an inquest has heard.

Ricky Fordham's family and friends attended his inquest on Friday to listen to witnesses give their version of events leading to his death.

Mr Fordham, of Crowborough Lane, Kents Hill, was 36-years-old when he was killed instantly as his red Yamaha motorbike hit a car near Furzton on September 10 last year.

This week Coroner Rodney Corner recorded a verdict of accidental death but described the evidence as 'puzzling'.

Two witnesses told the inquest they had seen a blue Renault Clio at a hatched turning area on the V3 Fulmer Street moments before the crash but police collision experts said this was impossible according to their findings.

PC Andrew Evans showed the inquest a diagram with the Clio pulling out of a side road into the path of the bike.

The driver of the Clio, David Poole, was taken to Milton Keynes Hospital seriously injured with a broken pelvis and leg. He was present at the inquest alongside his girlfriend who was a passenger in the car at the time of the crash.

A legal representative said Mr Poole could not give evidence at the inquest because he is facing criminal proceedings.

Mr Corner said: "Ricky could see this car coming out and only had a second to think before he could decide what to do.

"It's a human reaction to slam on the brakes and the wheels locked up.

"He was bound to come off.

"Mr Poole was coming out of a junction. It wasn't safe to come out. It was just a lack of concentration on the car driver's part that has caused the death of Ricky."

In a statement prepared for MK NEWS, Mr Fordham's mother, Joan Fordham, said: "Ricky was a happy fun loving boy with so much to live for.

"I miss his smile, his laugh but most of all I miss his hugs. Nothing will ever take away my pain. He will never see his son grow and mature.

"Ricky was loved by everyone who knew him."

Station Square improvements

PLANS to turn Station Square into an attractive gateway into Milton Keynes are to be presented to the public.

Last Thursday (April 8) Milton Keynes Council's cabinet gave the go-ahead for a statutory consultation on proposals to improve the area outside Milton Keynes Central railway station.

The aim is to make the square more attractive and usable as a city space and to improve it as a transport hub.

Cllr Chris Williams, cabinet member for transport said: "The vast majority of people enter Milton Keynes through Station

Square and when they first come in they are faced with three lines of traffic going back and forwards, non controlled pedestrian crossings and then a very bland square.

"There is no indication of how to get to CMK and no art work to make it attractive."

The revamp plans include a new bus shelter and taxi rank, bus stops with real time information, proper access for people with disabilities, new bike racks and improved access for buses and taxis.

The proposals are also for an area of street art and a water feature and space for community events.

Funding of £4million has been earmarked from the Government ffor the regeneration.

The council hopes to start work on the square in the autumn and to have finished by April 2009.

thehub:mk sold by developers

FRONTIER Estates has announced the sale of thehub:mk.

Officially opened by The Queen in November the first phase of the mixed use scheme has been sold to a private investment company for an undisclosed sum.

Andrew Crowther, joint managing director of Frontier Estates said: "Developing thehub:mk has been an exciting journey for us and we are extremely proud to have succeeded in delivering the first mixed use scheme of this type in Milton Keynes.

"It brings city centre living to Milton Keynes for the first time and it is the first Milton Keynes 24-7 experience, bringing people to live, work, meet, dine and shop in stylish, modern and environmentally friendly surroundings.

"As a development company, our intention was always to sell once we had completed the first phase of this scheme and we are delighted with the price we have achieved.

"The deal was negotiated and agreed last year, so it has been unaffected by the recent turmoil in the financial markets."

BOARDING & DAY

One resident looks on as the flood waters hit for the second time in a month last July

Village of the dams

BY ROB GIBSON
rob.gibson@mk-news.co.uk

A SERIES of mini dams are to be built to combat the flood threat to the village of Stoke Goldington as part of £150,000 storm defence programme.

Fifty villagers were left homeless during freak flash floods in June and July last year.

Milton Keynes Council launched an investigation into the cause of the flooding and has now developed a programme to reduce flooding.

A council-commissioned report from a firm of professional engineers found the cause of the flooding was the result of a combination of factors including:

- Heavy rain in the previous days and weeks left ground sodden
- Heavy localised rainfall, the highest on record for 40 years
- The village is located on clay that is not able to absorb water quickly
- Ditches, streams and culverts were overwhelmed by the volume of water.

In a report to cabinet last Tuesday it was agreed to spend £150,000 this year to create ditching and bunds to give storm water the chance to feed through in a controlled way to reduce the risk of future flooding.

The council will also create a team to look at drainage trouble spots across the borough.

The report recommends up to £650,000 of measures but states that even if this work is complete 'it is not reasonably possible to put in systems that will guarantee that no flooding will ever occur'.

Other flood measures will be considered over the next five years, once the ditching and bund works are complete this year.

During the floods in June and July the council provided more than 2,000 sandbags to residents, found alternative accommodation for villagers left homeless by the storm and also agreed a six month suspension of council tax.

Man used 'spy' mirror in ladies' loos

A PEEPING Tom has been handed a community service order after spying on women in the toilet cubicles at a city supermarket.

Edwin Arthur Dawe, 59, of Pelton Court, Shenley Lodge, went into the ladies' toilets at Tesco in Bletchley at midnight on January 15 and locked himself in the middle cubicle.

The pervert crouched down and held a compact mirror under the side of the cubicle to spy on two women. But one spotted him and alerted security staff, who called the police.

Dawe was given a three-year community service order and ordered to pay £60 costs at Milton Keynes Magistrates' Court on Thursday.

He had earlier pleaded guilty one count under the Sexual Offences Act 2003.

David Gough, defending, described the incident as an 'unsophisticated example of voyeurism' because Dawe did not use recording equipment.

Jail boss 'betrayed'

THE Governor of Woodhill prison said he was betrayed by a prison officer who admitted trying to smuggle heroin and cocaine to inmates.

Adam Seamark, 25, was sentenced to five years behind bars at Reading Crown Court.

In December police received a tip-off and caught Seamark with two packets of steroids strapped to his genitals.

He later admitted smuggling drugs, including heroin and cocaine, into the prison on five separate occasions.

Speaking to MK NEWS, Luke Serjeant, governor at HMP Woodhill, said: "I'm saddened that an ex member of my staff is now facing a long period of imprisonment."

Poulter sets the pace

ON Friday, Woburn golf professional Ian Poulter made an impressive start to the 72nd Masters with an opening two-under 70 which included a hole-in-one on the 16th.

Poulter, 32, set the early clubhouse pace with a single birdie on the front nine and then a bogey on 17 after his ace for an eagle on the 170-yard 16th.

"There was an instant adrenaline rush. An unbelievable buzz. Probably the biggest I've had," he said.

"It was a pretty flawless ball-striking round, probably one of my best rounds."

Poulter, who tied for 13th last year, his best finish in three appearances, landed his eight iron pin high to within 20 feet on the 16th and then watched the ball roll downwhill into the cup.

It was the 21st hole-in-one at the Masters.

Driver's safety swim

ON Monday we put on the web that a man had managed to swim to safety after his car went into Furzton Lake.

Police were called to the scene near Shirwell Crescent at around 9pm on Sunday (April 14). The 38-year-old driver had released himself from the vehicle and swam to the shore.

He had no serious injuries but was taken to hospital as a precaution.

The police's specialist search and recovery team recovered the black Renault Laguna.

The team also discovered a blue Vauxhall Nova in the lake, which had been reported stolen in 2005.

A spokesman for Thames Valley Police said an investigation is ongoing into the incident.

Up the junction

YESTERDAY we revealed that Milton Keynes Coachway, near M1 Junction 14, will have improved facilities for both local and long distance bus travellers.

The new terminal, which is being funded by Milton Keynes Partnership, will be situated in the new Park & Ride facility, between the A509 and A5130.

A temporary coach station has been built off Silbury Boulevard in Campbell Park.

From April 26 coaches will operate from here and no longer call at the Junction 14 Coachway until the new building is ready.

Signs will be erected to direct drivers from Junction 14 to the Campbell Park facility.

Schools merger agreed

PLANS to merge two schools to form a single primary school are to go ahead.

A cabinet meeting of Milton Keynes Council last Tuesday agreed to close Wellsmead Junior School and extend the age range of Wellsmead Infant School to form a primary school on the site of the former junior school in West Bletchley.

Initially the new primary school, which will open in September 2008, will operate from both school sites until work to expand and refurbish the old junior school is complete.

This work is expected to complete in time for the new school year in September 2009.

The current infant school site will then become vacant and an extensive consultation will take place about its future alternative use.

This decision follows consultation with parents and other interested bodies 91% who supported the change.

From September the new primary school will offer 210 pupil places plus the pre-school currently accommodated in the infant school building. It is likely that the primary school will open with a brand new name.

However, it was not smooth sailing over plans to merge two other West Bletchley Schools, Rivers Infant School and Rickley Junior School.

As we revealed last week proposals were withdrawn as the school governors could not agree how the headteacher for the new school should be chosen.

10-year animal ban for cruelty couple

BY LAURA HANNAM
laura.hannam@mk-news.co.uk

Rini: Emaciated, arthritic and suffering from muscular atrophy

A COUPLE from Netherfield have been banned from keeping animals for ten years after admitting allowing two German Shepherd dogs to starve.

The dogs were found emaciated at the pair's home address by an RSPCA inspector in September, a court has heard.

Months before, in June 2007, John Salussolia and his wife Lesley, both from Farmborough, Netherfield, had been told to take their dogs to the vet by the RSPCA.

However, when inspector Kirsty Hampton visited their address on Friday, September 2, she found the dogs in poor condition.

The couple pleaded guilty to several charges of causing unnecessary suffering to the animals at Milton Keynes Magistrates Court on Friday, March 14.

Inspector Hampton's statement, read out in court by RSPCA prosecutor Janita Patel, said she saw one dog, now known as 12-year-old Rini, had the shape of its ribs, haunches and spine visible and its back end was so weak it kept sinking to the floor.

It had also lost hair across its back end, legs and tail, its skin was scabby and it smelled strongly, the court heard.

A veterinary examination confirmed that Rini was emaciated, arthritic, suffering from muscular atrophy and had tumours in its mammary gland which had been left untreated.

The younger dog, eight-month old Pru, was suffering muscular wastage and had pronounced ribs. Both showed signs of starvation.

They were taken into boarding by the RSPCA, but Rini was later put down.

John Salussolia, 41, pleaded guilty to causing unnecessary suffering to a German Shepherd called Rini, by failing to provide it with veterinary care in respect of its weight loss and poor condition.

His wife, Lesley Salussolia, 37, pleaded guilty to the same charge, as well as a second charge of causing suffering to the German Shepherd known as Pru, by not ensuring it received an adequate diet sufficient for its needs.

Their defence lawyer said the couple were going through an emotional separation at the time of the offences which contributed to the decline of the dogs' health but were now back together.

Last Friday (April 11) at Milton Keynes Magistrates' Court Lesley Salussolia was sentenced to carry out 100 hours community service over 12 months and, to contribute £400 towards court costs.

John Salussolia will carry out 90 hours community service over 12 months and also contribute £400.

Both were banned from keeping any animals for ten years.

Winning team fudges ExtraCare challenge

MORE than £13,000 has been raised to help fund health and leisure facilities at The ExtraCare Charitable Trust's Lovat Fields Village, Willen, as a result of a Business Challenge competition sponsored by NatWest bank and MK NEWS.

Local organisations which took part were given £50 with the challenge making it grow and the winner was a team from National House Building Council which accumulated £3,396.

The team was presented with a trophy by Paul Heerey, director of core commercial banking, Royal Bank of Scotland, members also received tickets to the Milton Keynes Ball being held at stadiummk on May 10.

Staff at NHBC, the UK's leading warranty and insurance provider for new homes, raised the money through a series of events including a raffle, regular dress-down Fridays and by buying some fudge wholesale to cut into pieces and sell.

Chief executive Imtiaz Farookhi said: "NHBC is committed to helping communities at local, national and international level and we are delighted to have raised these funds for The ExtraCare Charitable Trust."

MK NEWS sponsored the school award in the challenge which was Southwood School, Conniburrow. The team raised money by making and selling pancakes, washing staff cars and holding an Easter egg hunt.

The newspaper offered day passes to Gulliver's and Eco Park to the team and general manager Jonathan Cropley presented members with a trophy.

The prize for the Entrepreneur's award for the most innovative and creative single fund raising idea went to Interdirect whose team, assisted by Taurus Public Relations, collected more than £1,200 after setting up an online advertising page and inviting people to buy space.

Members received Daytona vouchers to compete in a karting endurance race.

Runner-up in the challenge was a team from thecentremk whose members received an outing for afternoon tea at the Dorchester and third was a team from Siemens Communication who received a case of wine.

Homes could go in Snowberry shakeup

BY LAURA HANNAM
laura.hannam@mk-news.co.uk

HOUSING in Stacey Bushes could be knocked down to regenerate the area.

Proposals to redevelop the Snowberry Quarter were given the go-ahead by Milton Keynes Council's cabinet last week (Tuesday, April 8).

The redevelopment would include knocking down unoccupied flats at Briar Lodge and sheltered accommodation on Briar Hill, which was decommissioned in September due to lack of demand.

The site also includes Stacey Bushes Meeting Place, a shop owned by MK Parks Trust and 136 bed-sits and flats owned by Places for People.

A council officer's report said the 24 empty flats at Briar Lodge had been subject to vandalism, having a detrimental effect for the remaining residents of Snowberry Close and the wider estate.

'The area has been a bit problematic for some years': Council leader Isobel McCall

It recommended that the cabinet give the go-ahead in principle to work with Places for People to redevelop the area, replacing the existing housing with mixed tenure housing designed to reduce problems of anti-social behaviour.

The proposals also include the provision of a new community centre and replacement of the current shop.

The report adds: 'The council tenants who have moved out of Briar Hill will be invited to express an interest in returning to the regenerated area as will those of Places for People.

Council leader Isobel McCall said: "The area has been a bit problematic for some years.

"The housing was unpopular because of the design and people started to move away so it became derelict.

"We have an oportunity now to work with Places for People to improve the area, but first and importantly we will be consulting with residents in Stacey Bushes to find out what local people want."

Co-op helps school with solar panels

A BLETCHLEY school is to become one of the greenest in the country by installing solar panels.

The panels have been given to Lord Grey School by The Co-operative Society in the latest round of its £1m national Green Energy for Schools scheme.

The panels, worth more than £20,000, are half funded through The Co-operative's scheme with match funding from the Government's Low Carbon Building Programme (LCBP).

Pupils can follow how much energy the panels are generating and how much carbon dioxide they have saved on a monitor screen in the school building.

The school will also be able to access its energy data on the Internet, along with educational materials which teachers can use in the classroom.

Headteacher Jill Coughlan said: "Using this renewable energy technology to power our own premises will really help us to bring that message home to pupils, parents and staff."

Mark McGregor, manager of The Co-op food store in Newton Road, Bletchley, said: "As a community retailer with strong green credentials, it is great that we are helping our local school in this way."

Dancing, singing, talking heads

SHOPPERS are to get the chance to experience life as a rockstar.

thecentre:mk is home to first UK installation of Dance Heads, an interactive machine capable of transposing people's heads on to professional dancer's bodies as they dance to original recordings from classic artists such as The Beach Boys, The Jackson 5 and Elvis.

Dance Heads started life in 2004 as an interactive entertainment system, letting party-goers lip-synch songs while superimposing their heads on professional dancers' bodies.

The new Dance Heads recording booth combines the original concept with the privacy and ease-of-use of a traditional, arcade photo booth. The machine allows users to create a DVD of their performance providing memories that will last forever. The booth at thecentre:mk is the first in the UK with a further 10 more planned at shopping centres around the country from May.

All shook up: Nick Coppock and Steve Merrikin dance to Jailhouse Rock

Steve Merrikin, national commercial manager (UK Operations) of Photo-Me said: "The idea behind Dance Heads is to give ordinary members of the public the thrill of becoming a pop star in their own music video. Milton Keynes is a fantastic city in which to launch our product to the UK market, it's seen as a city of firsts and the population are used to adopting new ideas."

The machine is already proving popular – within two days of the machine behind installed visitors from Finland witnessed the operation and contacted Photo-Me with the intention of importing it.

Robert Goodman, centre director of thecentre:mk said: "Here at thecentre:mk we're proud of our ability to promote innovation, we have the largest permanent exhibition space of any shopping centre in the UK set aside for a whole range of events running 52 weeks a year."

A day at the races

After being bitten by the betting bug during this year's Grand National, sports reporter Simone Corgan went down the road to experience horse racing first hand at Towcester Racecourse

I AM far from a horse racing fanatic, in fact I have an irrational fear of horses but being British there is something instilled in me that means I have to trudge down to a bookmakers once a year and whack on some money.

Needless to say I'm never very good at it.

At Towcester I had the chance to bet on six races, there were totepool tips in the official programme and in the hospitality lounge a pundit gave his thoughts on the runners and riders, surely I had to pick up some money after all that help.

Despite being told Common Girl would be one to keep on eye on in the first race of the day, I liked the name Jug Of Punch, so that is who I put my money on.

I did not look into form, or previous results, I picked him purely on the name and decided he was worth a £3 each-way bet.

When I stepped out onto the balcony of the Empress Stand the first thing that struck me was the spectacular backdrop for the event with lush green grass and trees as far as the eyes can see.

Then once the horses had set off there was a gentle hum of spectators muttering among themselves as they followed the progress with pound signs in their eyes.

As Common Girl crossed the line in third I was about to kick myself for ignoring the expert advice beforehand, but my luck was in as Jug of Punch claimed fourth and with it won me £12.50.

OK so my winnings were not about to allow me to retire in the sun any time soon, but I was more than happy.

It got better for me as I slapped on £2.50 each way (last of the big spenders, that's me) on Baron Romeo in the second race and while people around me were celebrating Arceye winning I was jumping up and down as the grey beauty earned me £22 with a second place.

At that point I should have stopped as it was all down hill from there.

I finished the day £10 out of pocket after a tip on the final race failed to materialise. I did get up close to the eight horses who ran in the final race as I had been asked to present an award to the winning owners.

Once I had shook hands and posed for photos with the Rydal Park owners I made a sharp exit from the winners' enclosure - I may have thoroughly enjoyed my day but I am still scared of horses.

You can book a series of packages at the racecourse to enjoy the day in style. The Empress Suite offers a four course meal and afternoon tea, private bar and tote bookmakers with table service as well as spectacular views of the racing from your own private balcony for just £65 per person.

The next meeting at Towcester Racecourse is on Tuesday evening, April 22. Entry is free. For more information visit www.towcester-racecourse.co.uk

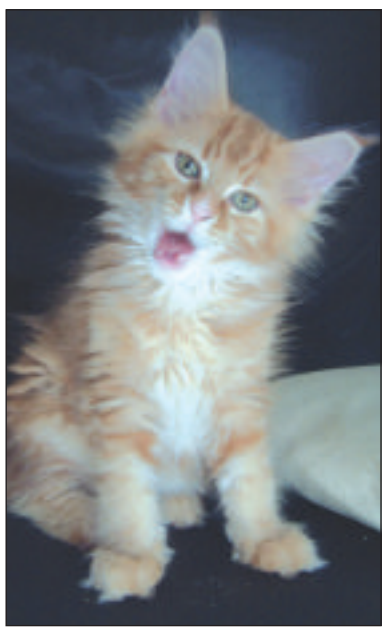
Weekend show is purr-fection for cat lovers



Ready for the third annual CoonTICA cat show at Bletchley Leisure Centre

BLETCHLEY is going to be the purr-fect place to be this weekend if you love cats.

Exhibitors from all over the UK will be attending the third annual CoonTICA Easter Purrade! cat show at Bletchley Leisure Centre.

More than 25 different pedigree breeds as well as non pedigree will be represented at the show.

Judges from the USA, Japan, France and Austria are flying in especially to make the tough decisions over which cats are best in show.

With more than 210 cats in competition on Saturday and over 170 on Sunday they will be spoilt for choice. The show is being filmed for an hour's TV documentary to be shown on Animal Planet.

The show is also helping to raise funds for the local branch of Cats Protection – in each of the last two years the show helped raise more than £650-a-year for them.

As well as the cats there are a number of trade and charity stalls providing cat-related items not normally available on the High Street.

The show features a cat agility ring, where cats tackle an obstacle course.

Show manager Ros Wood, said: "TICA shows are renowned for their fun and excitement for exhibitors and visitor alike. This is the third year we have run this show and it gets better every year.

"We are very grateful for the support given to the show by Royal Canin and our other sponsors."

■ The show is open to the public from 9.30am to 4.30pm both days, admission is £2.50 adults, £1.50 seniors and 50p for children.

Star quality? Enter MK Factor and win prizes

ARE you a performing artist that can offer that bit of star quality?

If so then Kik Music wants to hear from you.

Last years MK Factor which was part of the city's 40th Anniversary Celebrations went down so well that KiK Music has been approached to do it again this year.

Shahnaz Hussain-Hall director of the event's organisers was overwhelmed by the standard of performers who attended last year's event and is hoping that this year will prove to be even more fruitful.

Organisers want to encourage as many different types of performers to come forward this year and particularly want to find street acts, magicians, fire-eaters, puppeteers and mime artists as well as dancers, musicians and singers.

Prizes include a weekend's recording with KiK Music, a night for two at The Ramada Encore, plus the chance to perform at the MK Theatre, The World Picnic and The Big Moo Weekend.

So dust down the tap shoes, warm up the vocal chords, tune up the old fiddle, in fact whatever it takes and get down to The Ramada Encore on Saturday and Sunday, April 26-27. x

■ For details go to www.kikmusic.org.uk or contact KiK Music on 0778 6476446.

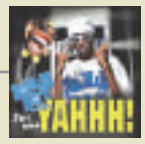
MUSIC REVIEWS



YAHHH!
Soulja Boy

THE first time I heard this, I wasn't quite sure what I was listening to. Was it another South Park single, featuring Timmy this time round instead of Chef, or were the people behind this actually serious?

Once I found out what the song was and who it was by, that blew the Timmy theory out of the water, but it really didn't make me feel any better.

There's Average, then there's Not Very Good, then there's Awful, then there's Utterly Dire and then, about five miles beyond Utterly Dire there's THIS.

If the title of a song features the same letter three times in succession, then that's usually a fair indicator that the song isn't going to be much cop.

The tune's repetitive, the lyrics are a tad unfriendly towards his own fans (apparently the title of the song is his response to any requests for an autograph).

This is every bit as bad as anything I've heard since I started reviewing the singles for this esteemed organ.

THAT'S NOT MY NAME
Ting Tings

IT only feels like a couple of weeks ago that I gave Great DJ a glowing review, and surprise surbloominprise, it didn't even reach the Top 75.

Well, if the music-buying public aren't going to pay attention to anything I say, I'm going to recommend another one of their songs and to Hell with the consequences.

This is, if anything, even poppier than its predecessor, but it gives the lead singer a chance to strut her stuff instead of sharing vocal duties and the tune's a bit more substantial too, in that there's a lot more going on in the background.

This really ought to give the band their first hit, because if this doesn't do it you have to wonder just what it is they'd have to do to make it big.

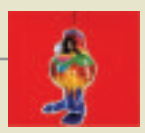
Probably find some incriminating photos of the people in charge of compiling the Singles Chart or something.

WHO'S THAT GIRL
Robyn

THERE'S not really a lot to this song, you know, but for some reason I think it's her best single since she came back.

It's a fun single to listen to, but not in a really naff 'fun' sort of way. No, this song doesn't force itself to be overly happy, so everything sounds natural and right.

Shame it's the fifth single off the album, if it had come out earlier it probably would've done a lot better than it will.



WANDERLUST
Bjork

LOOKS like Bjork's managed to restrain herself this time round, after the completely mental Declare Independence.

Mind you, Bjork's definition of restrained is still more than enough to get most other singers locked away in padded cells if they tried anything similar.

For one thing, the first minute or so is nothing more than foghorns playing off against each other to make something resembling a tune.

Then there's Bjork's inimitable style of singing, which is all over the rest of this song.

Finally the song ends with even more horns closing the proceedings.

The song's completely mad, but it's a good mad – it also chugs along for well over seven minutes, so you're getting your money's worth. SIMON DARNELL

SINGSING

What was your New Year's resolution? Was it to realise your secret burning desire to sing? If that is the case read on.

KiK Music, the team behind the highly successful Milton Keynes 40th Birthday celebrations are pulling out all the stops again.

In February the team will be forming The Milton Keynes City Community Choir.

The idea follows last year's successful project where KiK formed a parish choir from local residents, trained them up, wrote a work and enabled them to perform it at Milton Keynes Theatre.

The choir received such an amazing response that KiK recognised the need to support community singing for the whole of Milton Keynes, hence a City Community Choir which is being generously supported by The Milton Keynes Arts Association.

The choir is open to everyone even if they have absolutely no experience whatsoever. But the KiK team particularly want to encourage men to come along as there is always a shortage of them.

Rehearsals will initially be held at Foundation House in Wolverton on Tuesday, April 22 at 7.30pm.

Find on 07786476446 or e-mail: info@kikmusic.org.uk

What's On at Xscape

Good luck to everyone that has entered our Where's the Welly competition…we've received hundreds of entries and the competition is now closed. We'll be contacting our lucky winner this week and announcing their name in next week's MK News.

And now AIRKIX puts the boot in!

It's National Welly Week 21-27 April and Airkix has come up with a bootiful idea to raise a bit of money for the Garden Organic Charity.

Flyers wishing to fly their wellies in the Airkix vertical wind tunnel in Milton Keynes simply book their flights for Welly Week using the 'windy wellies' code. They will receive a £5 discount and Airkix will put £3 towards the charity. For anyone already booked and wishing to fly in their wellies, Airkix will still add the charity donation.

So instead of your wellies getting stuck in the mud at Glastonbury, give them some 'air' at the Airkix wind tunnel where it's guaranteed not to rain! Visitors and thrill seekers to the Airkix 150mph wind tunnel, get to fly their body on a bed of air and experience the ultimate freefall sensation.

The Airkix vertical wind tunnel at the Milton Keynes Xscape Centre is the UK's first purpose built wind tunnel that teaches people to fly. It's perfectly safe, no parachute is needed; visitors can feel the exhilaration of unlimited freefall without even boarding a plane. To book your flight visit www.airkix.com or call 0845 331 6549.

Welly Week is organised by Garden Organic to raise funds to help educate and inspire people about organic gardening, farming and food for a sustainable future for ourselves, the children, the environment and the planet. During Welly Week everyone is invited to host a welly walk or wear their wellies to work and celebrate all that's good about organics!

Airkix is supporting Garden Organic as part of its 'Green' policy. Simon Ward, Chief Exec of Airkix says of the promotion; "we train over 45,000 first time flyers a year and hundreds of skydivers too and whilst we love blue skies we also love green fields. We hope lots of people will take part in our fun promotion for Welly Week and help us support Garden Organic."

Thanks to www.funky-wellington-boots.co.uk for the supply of their funky wellies.

Seagulls condemn Hatters to the drop

FOOTBALL LEAGUE ONE
LUTON TOWN 1
BRIGHTON & HOVE ALBION 2

LUTON Town's season from hell had its predictable outcome yesterday as the Hatters dropped down to League Two.

The second successive relegation had been on the cards for some time but defeat to Brighton sealed Luton's fate.

Administration, a points deduction, FA charges, sales of vital players – there's only so much a club can take and goals from Ian Westlake and Glenn Murray finished off the Hatters after Sam Parkin had given the home side the lead.

Only maximum points would do and Luton started brightly against the play-off chasing Seagulls.

But it was the visitors who should have gone ahead nine minutes in had it not been for Westlake's wasteful finish.

Murray's deceptive cross was looping goalwards and had to be palmed out at full stretch by Dean Brill. With the keeper on the floor it fell to Westlake at the far post who instead of tucking the ball away for an easy tap in, rolled it wide.

That let-off woke Luton up and the Hatters went on to control the half. Keith Keane blazed over when he had enough time to do better following a goalmouth scramble and with a drop of the shoulder the tightly-marked Sam Parkin finally had room to shoot but the striker didn't test Michel Kuipers in the Seagulls' net.

A goal just before the break would have been reward for Luton's possession and it almost came on 43 minutes.

Young right back Ed Asafu-Adjaye's swirling cross into a busy penalty area found Parkin but the striker's deft header flashed past the far post.

Luton knew what they had to do for the remaining 45 minutes and Parkin made sure they started as they were meant to go on moments after the restart.

Sol Davis' free kick was headed down by Andrew and Brighton were sloppy in clearing. Parkin took advantage of the uncertainty, going around the keeper and tapping in for an easy fifth goal of the season.

Sadly the joy was shortlived as Brighton went straight up the other end and equalised.

Luton were on the backfoot seconds after scoring as Brighton ploughed forward. Winger Dean Cox's cross took a deflection which set it up nicely for Westlake who atoned for his earlier miss heading past Brill at the far post.

A draw simply wasn't good enough so Hatters pressed on and only a superb save from Kuipers denied Luton from regaining the lead.

Lewis Emanuel's driven corner was met at the near post by Don Hutchison who must have thought he'd scored as his header looked destined for the top corner. From out of the crowd leapt Dutchman Kuipers who athletically stopped it with an out-stretched arm.

But as Luton pressed there were gaping holes at the back that Brighton exploited on 59 minutes. Murray led a counter-attack and finished the move getting on the end of Cox's cross to beat Brill with a powerful header.

The goal cruelly highlighted the thin line between success and failure which was evident again on 70 minutes when Andrew spurned Luton's last chance of going down with a fight.

What made the miss harder to take was that the rookie had done the hard work - Aasafu-Adjaye's cross was difficult to control but Andrew did just that, taking it down and dodging his marker. The goal opened up for him and with only Kuipers to beat the striker curled it directly at the keeper.

'Down in a minute' the away fans chanted as the time ran out on Luton's spell in League One.

GETTING STUCK IN: Stephen O'Leary in battling mood during Luton's defeat which relegated them

Bizarre goal slays Town

SUTTON COLDFIELD 1
LEIGHTON TOWN 0

LEIGHTON were undone by a freak goal 18 minutes before time at third placed Sutton Coldfield.

Andy Fagan came close on five minutes but couldn't direct his shot on target from a difficult angle.

But Leon Cashman had a more clear cut chance five minutes later as a high ball duped the Sutton defence letting the striker in on goal but he sent his shot over the bar.

Coldfield then hit the post to fire a warning at Town but the visitors were not flustered and again came close minutes before half-time when Ben Gallant struck over from the edge of the box.

Town were let off the hook by the linesman's flag ten minutes after the break but still they looked the more likely to score when Cashman's near post flick went agonisingly wide.

The home side had no right to score when Sam Chapman fouled Matthew Dodd on the touchline. Instead of delivering the expected ball into the box Leon Doughty shot to see the ball fly over keeper Steve Root and in off the far post.

That knocked the fight out of the Reds and they couldn't find the momentum again to pull back an equaliser.

Tumble turns prove their worth at Crusaders club

LINSLADE Crusaders started the new term with a Starts and Turns Course which runs every Sunday morning focusing on improving starts and turns for all strokes.

An enthusiastic group of young swimmers enjoyed the first session especially the relay races when they had chance to put their new skills into practise.

After the session one of the swimmers said "It was fantastic – we had so much fun and I would like to do this every day!"

Junior coach Barry Kent said "Getting a good start and perfecting your tumble turns can make several seconds difference in a race, so it's worth putting in the effort to get it right. These young swimmers have been getting ideas from watching the World Short Course Championships in Manchester this week and are inspired by the international swimmers including breaststroker James Gibson who gave out the prizes at our Club Championships a few years ago."

Brothers Alex and Nic Brown also represented Crusaders at the Luton Open Meet this weekend. Despite the very tough competition from swimmers from the across the Eastern Region, Alex won a bronze medal in the 100m breaststroke.

If you would like more information about Crusaders Swimming Club, contact Bev on 752318 or visit the website www.linsladecrusaders.org.

Advantage Buzzards

LEIGHTON BUZZARD 97
LUTTERWORTH 5

BUZZARDS snatched back top spot in Midlands Three East (South) destroying leaders Wellingborough's 68 point advantage with the 97-5 hammering of Northampton Casuals.

The result means that the title is firmly back in Leighton's hands with one game to play and a ten point deficit in their favour.

They now face mid table Towcestrians while Wellingborough face the tougher task of third place Stewart and Lloyds.

Coach Gordon Fletcher praised his high scoring team saying: "I'm extremely delighted. It's very difficult to win by such a score, keeping up that same high level of intensity throughout."

Leighton were 47-5 up at half time with tries from Stuart Wilson, Euan Irwin, Gavin Taylor, Ryan Fraser, Geoff Branwhite, Gary Low and Bert Yirrel.

The ever reliable Wilson converted six of the seven conversions and hit the post with the other. The only disappointing aspect the coach said was that Lutterworth scored midway through the half.

Buzzards have scored big all season and after conceding their hold on top spot a few weeks ago they have continued in the same vein to show their title credentials.

The second half was more of the same for a Lutterworth 15 that couldn't cope with Leighton's as they ran in yet more scores from Mick Turney, Wayne Chapman, another from Irwin before top-scorer Jack Brown ran in a hat-trick. Branwhite and Yirrel completed the tries while Wilson kicked five conversions.

CHEFS'SECRETS

An off-the-shoulder number

SPRING is here, well maybe not the weather but it's the best time of year for those of us who love to cook.

It's a time of year when all of our UK produce is new, sweet and juicy.

The spring season gives us baby vegetables, new potatoes, herbs and salads, all bursting with flavour and with little cooking needed.

One of my favourite ingredients is asparagus. No buying that Spanish or Peruvian stuff. Think air miles but, more importantly, THINK BRITISH. Help those small farm holders before they get left behind.

The flavour of early asparagus is so good that it is a shame to do too much to it.

This month's starter is simply-cooked asparagus with easy Hollandaise.

Later on in the season we add a poached egg and some Parma ham.

The other great spring treat is new season British lamb and is our biggest seller at the pub.

Our lamb invariably comes from the fields around the Crooked Billet in the village of Newton Longville.

There is no better lamb than that you can get in our village butchers, Pollards, run by Tim and Trudy.

Please don't all rush there as we have first dibs, but I am sure they have plenty to go around.

We marinate shoulders of lamb and cook them slowly so they become crispy and fall off the bone.

This month a crispy lamb dish that you can put in the oven and forget – for a while anyway.

SLOW ROASTED SHOULDER OF LAMB WITH A HERB YOGURT

Serves four

INGREDIENTS

Shoulder of lamb
250g natural yogurt
Small bunch of mint
Small bunch of thyme
Small bunch of rosemary
Salt and freshly ground black pepper
Aluminium foil

METHOD

1 For the marinade chop the mint, thyme and rosemary and mix with the yogurt, salt and pepper.
You can keep back a sprig of rosemary for a garnish

2 Cover the lamb shoulder with all the marinade and wrap in the foil

3 Leave for at least two hours or preferably overnight in the fridge

4 Place the lamb in a large roasting tray, foil on, and cook on a low heat 170c for two hours

5 Remove the foil and cook for a further 40 minutes at 220c

Note: At this point it is a good idea to roast some par-boiled potatoes on the same baking tray. The potatoes will absorb any juices from the lamb.

HOLLANDAISE SAUCE

Serves four

INGREDIENTS

2 large egg yolks
1 dessert spoon lemon juice
1 dessert spoon white wine vinegar
4oz (100g) unsalted butter
Salt and black pepper to taste

METHOD

1 Place the egg yolks in the food blender and season with salt and freshly milled black pepper and then blend thoroughly

2 Heat the lemon juice and white wine vinegar in a small pan until it just simmers

3 Turn the blender on again and slowly add the hot liquid in a steady stream. Turn the blender off

4 Using the same pan, melt the butter over a gentle heat until it just starts to foam

5 Turn the blender on again and trickle in the melted butter, a little at a time

6 Turn the blender off and scrape the sides of the blender clean with a spatula before giving it one last blitz to incorporate everything

ASPARAGUS

INGREDIENTS

24 Asparagus spears six for each serving
Large pan of boiling water

METHOD

1 Wash the asparagus spears to make sure any grit has been removed from the flower head

2 Hold the spear with one end in each hand. Bend gently until it breaks. This removes the woody end – this is probably not necessary on early-season, thin spears.

3 Boil for three minutes

4 Place on a plate and pour over the Hollandaise

Reserve an apartment

at Bellways Homes' Aqua development in Fenny Stratford, Milton Keynes

If you had a spare £99 you might consider splashing out on a new outfit, organising a weekend away or treating friends and family to a slap-up meal. What you might not consider is using the cash to purchase a new luxury apartment.

It might seem too good to be true, but it really is possible. Housebuilder Bellway has introduced a 'Reserve For £99'* offer on all 1 and 2 bedroom apartments at its highly desirable waterside development, Aqua in Fenny Stratford in Milton Keynes. Chris Edginton, Sales Director of Bellway Northern Home Counties, said: "Using the offer purchasers only have to pay £99 to reserve their apartment. We will then pay the 5% deposit, 1% stamp duty and legal fees up to £1000.

"The offer is perfect for first time buyers, who even though they're in full-time employment, find it impossible to save for a deposit and have to live in rented accommodation, or at home with their parents. Money that would otherwise be lost in rent can be invested in a home of their own."

For example, on a 1-bedroom apartment with allocated car parking space priced at £136,000 Bellway would pay a 5% deposit of £6,800, 1% Stamp Duty of £1,360 and legal fees up to £1000 – saving purchasers £9,160. Purchasers must use Bellway financial services and a nominated solicitor. Two bedroom apartments are available from £162,000, with savings of £10,720

Situated on Watling Street, Aqua is a development of one- and two- bedroom apartments situated on the south side of Milton Keynes in the area of Fenny Stratford. As the name suggests, the development is adjacent to the Grand Union Canal and bordered on the other side by the River Ouzel with water meadows beyond.

Fenny Stratford on the edge of Milton Keynes has a selection of shops and a variety of eateries and bars as well as its own cafe and delicatessen. There is a modern retail park nearby which includes a large supermarket.

Just over 3 miles away is the vibrant city centre of Milton Keynes which offers everything required for modern day life including high street retailers, restaurants, good schools and leisure facilities. There are theatres, cinemas the snow dome the home ground for the MK Dons. Being almost equidistant from London, Birmingham, Leicester Oxford and Cambridge, make Milton Keynes the ideal location for commuters.

Local transport links are very good. At just half a mile from Aqua is the A5 while the M1 is 4 miles from the development. Nearby Bletchley main line station offers fast and frequent services to London in around 40-45 minutes.

MK BUSINESS

Girls on top in sixth form challenge

AN all female team from Denbigh School beat off competition from three other local sixth forms to win the grand final of this year's annual Arts Business Challenge, sponsored by Siemens Enterprise Communications Ltd.

The trophy was presented to the winning team by the Mayor of Milton Keynes, councillor Mike Barry.

The winners go through to the Inter-County Challenge which takes place in the Autumn when they will compete against winners of similar challenges from Bedfordshire and Buckinghamshire schools.

This is the 14th successive year that Cranfield School of Management has hosted the annual Arts Business Challenge. This year it attracted 12 entries from 8 schools across Milton Keynes and North Bucks.

The event took place during March and was co-organised with Stantonbury Campus, an arts college. The event ran 'virtually' for a week, with teams of budding entrepreneurs participating in an online business simulation, designed to give them an insight into what it's like to run your own business.

Each team benefited from the advice of mentors who volunteered from the local business community. Anish Hindocha, a mentor for the 2008 Arts Business Challenge, said of his experience: "I'd definitely do this again and would encourage anyone in business, no matter what level, to give it a go. It was a real interactive eye opener to mentoring, motivation and the world of business fundamentals."

Karen Valverde, Business Simulations Manager at Cranfield School of Management, said: "Once again we had an excellent response from schools and it was encouraging to see the enthusiasm and competitiveness of the teams. The competition is designed to inspire sixth formers across Milton Keynes and North Bucks to develop skills in business and consider business as an option for their career."

Chryssaphes Associates Milton Keynes' office team

Numbers all add up for recruiter's move to MK

BY LAURA HANNAM
laura.hannam@mk-news.co.uk

AN executive recruiter with over 25 years' specialist experience has opened an office in Milton Keynes.

Executive search firm Chryssaphes Associates, with experience in recruiting finance directors and their teams, has just established a new office in Midsummer Boulevard, in addition to its existing base in London.

The company has targeted fast-growing Milton Keynes as the ideal environment and springboard to develop further its thriving business.

It brings with it a large talent pool of personal contacts built up over years of ongoing in-house research and client assignments.

Director Harry Chryssaphes said: "We were already in a position to appreciate Milton Keynes' potential and business thrust having successfully recruited a group financial controller for Rightmove plc, which is based in Milton Keynes, and the finance director of Welcome Break Group, in nearby Newport Pagnell, to mention just two more recent assignments.

"I have spent the last quarter of a century building up my experience in identifying and recruiting fast-track finance talent on behalf of blue-chip companies which, in the past, have included clients such as Avis Europe, BT, Guinness/Diageo and Norwich Union.

"Nowadays we primarily work with FTSE 250, AIM-listed and PE-backed businesses.

"I look forward to us becoming a more integral part of the Milton Keynes business community."

The five-strong team at Chryssaphes Associates moved into Midsummer Boulevard on March 31.

New firms can be winners in top awards

HSBC bank is calling all city entrepreneurs in its annual search for the country's top new businesses.

The eighth HSBC Start-Up Stars Awards have been launched starting a search for the UK's most promising start-up businesses and the inspirational entrepreneurs behind them.

The awards, backed by the Government and supported by Sky News and the Daily Express, welcome any fledging firms less than three years old which can prove they have the determination, dedication, creativity and business acumen for success.

The regional heats, which generate 60 regional winners, seek entries from all over the UK.

A panel of business experts will then select the top 10 new businesses to fly the flag for their region in the national finals.

The south east regional finalists will be announced at the Ashmolean Museum in Oxford on June 25.

The winner will walk away with a cheque for £50,000, courtesy of HSBC.

A cheque for £5,000 will also be presented to the business scooping the Green Award and demonstrating they are putting the environment at the top of their business agenda.

As official supporter of the awards, Google will be offering £5,000 of AdWords and a visit to their London office as a prize to both the national winner and the green award winner.

Each of the runners-up will receive £2,500 of AdWords.

Entry forms are available online at www.startupstars.hsbc.co.uk or from HSBC branches

For further information call 0800 085 3411.

Closing date for entries is Friday May 16.

MK MOTORING

Above and beyond the call of duty

LEADING Peugeot dealership, Perrys on Bilton Road, Bletchley, has won the coveted Individual Dealership of the Year Award 2007 at the Motability Operations' Supplier Awards, officially making it the country's top supplier of Motability cars for its fleet size.

Perrys beat off strong competition from a number of other leading national motor retailers.

Judges were impressed with the first-class and professional service offered by Perrys' Motability Specialists, along with the dealership's commitment to going above and beyond the call of duty to make its customer experience as enjoyable as possible.

"We are absolutely delighted to have received this award, which highlights our commitment to Motability customers," said Perrys' regional director Mike Beevis: "I would like to congratulate the dealership staff for their hard work and dedication, which has helped us win this award."

This is not the first time Perrys has been recognised at the Motability Operations' Supplier Awards. The group achieved Top Dealer Group at the inaugural awards in 2005 and this year several Perrys' sites around the country were short-listed for the top accolade, including Barnsley and Rotherham.

Ian Goswell, commercial services director Motability Operations, said: "This is a hugely exciting time for Motability Operations and we are delighted by the significant achievements of Perrys and all our annual award winners.

"The Motability Car Scheme has grown considerably over the last 12 months with yet more makes and models available, and customer satisfaction reaching an all-time high.

"It is the passion and dedication of all the Supplier Award winners that has made this possible, and I am proud of their contribution to our business."

The event took place at the Celtic Manor Resort in Newport.

STOCKPORT COUNTY
League Two
Saturday, April 19. KO 3pm
Edgeley Park

HUNTING down the third automatic promotion spot, Stockport County know a win over MK Dons would keep them in close contact with the pack.

And County know three points from the Dons is not beyond the realms of possibility as they did exactly that in October.

Jim Gannon's team produced a stubborn performance at stadiummk to end the Dons' run of nine games unbeaten as they turned over the league leaders with a 2-0 win.

Last weekend Stockport spoilt promotion celebrations at Peterborough as they beat Posh 1-0 and in doing so denied them a 47-year club record of 17 consecutive league games without defeat.

Aaron Wilbraham, who started his professional career with Stockport, could return to haunt his old club. The Dons' striker has scored six in his last seven games which takes his tally to nine in an injury hit season.

Colin Cameron's knee ligament damage is likely to keep him out for the rest of the season.

Season ticket prices frozen

DONS fans are set to be treated to a higher class of football next year - for exactly the same price as this year.

The club will today announce they have frozen season ticket prices for the 2008/09 campaign.

The launch of 'The Big Freeze' is set to have a great response and general manager Keith Dickens believes it is only the beginning: "By freezing the ticket prices we're simply trying to recognise the truly outstanding support and following that we're developing as a club, and 'developing' is the key word here," he said.

Next season an adult can watch 46 league games from as little as £255, concessions from £165 and juniors from £165. Under-7s go free with a paying adult.

'The Big Freeze' starts Monday, April 21 when current season ticket holders will be able to renew with first preference on their own seat – they have until Saturday, May 3 to take up the offer. New season ticket applications start Tuesday, May 6 until Monday, June 30.

MK DONS v WYCOMBE SATURDAY, APRIL 12

Sean O'Hanlon heads home MK Dons' injury-time equaliser

Great Scott strikes to spoil the party

BY SIMONE CORGAN

PARTY-CRASHERS Wycombe Wanderers spoilt the day at stadiummk when they drew 2-2 with MK Dons and denied them a chance to seal promotion with four games to go.

But the Dons were actually grateful for a share of the spoils as they claimed a last gasp point in the 94th minute through Sean O'Hanlon's header.

The brave defender, who has been playing with a broken nose since the win at Lincoln two weeks ago, rose superbly in the box to connect with Dean Lewington's corner in the Dons' last throw of the dice.

It was the second time Paul Ince's team had come from behind in the match.

First Scott McGleish nodded Wycombe ahead on the 37th minute when he latched onto a header back from the far post.

But his second, coming a minute after Aaron Wilbraham had put the Dons on level terms, was a spectacular effort from 30-yards.

The Chairboys' striker collected a clearance from O'Hanlon then instinctively sent a stunning volley into the net, as he stood to receive congratulations from his team mates, fans collected their jaws from the floor.

An astonishing goal that even die-hard Dons fans would have believed was good enough to win the game for Wycombe.

Even Dons' assistant boss Ray Mathias thought the strike was a one-off beauty.

He said: "They were in the game in fits and starts but they never really troubled us but they've scored with a speculative shot, a fantastic goal but the lad will never score another like that in his life.

"Their second goal would have deflated a lesser team but we continued to pressurise them and the equaliser was the least we deserved from the game."

Former Dons striker Leon Knight, who could collect two winners' medals if the Dons win the title and Wycombe win the play-offs, received plenty of stick from the Cowshed and rarely threatened Willy Gueret's goal mouth.

His frustration with the crowd and on the field saw him pick up his tenth booking of the season which will see him suspended for two of Wycombe's last three games.

The Dons had not lost in 13 league matches and were not about to see that run ended by their Buckinghamshire rivals, so they pushed upfield.

It could easily have backfired on them as Delroy Facey broke on a swift counter attack until Gueret smothered before a shot was fired.

Instead the plan worked as O'Hanlon salvaged a point with his second goal in as many games.

DONS skipper Keith Andrews missed out on the League Two Player of the Month award.

The midfielder, who led MK Dons to Johnstone's Paint Trophy triumph in March, was pipped to the award by Stockport goalkeeper John Ruddy.

Andrews has been in top form all season and boss Paul Ince was angry to learn his star performer had been overlooked for the Republic of Ireland.

Despite scoring 13 goals this season and being named the League Two Player of the Year Andrews was not included in Giovanni Trapattoni's initial 40-man squad.

Ince said: "Keith's been absolutely fantastic all season. Given the way he's been playing he should have been in that squad.

"It makes you wonder what he's got to do. You don't get many midfield players who score 13 goals in a season, I don't care what league it's in. And it's not just that, it's the way he's played this season that should have earned him a call-up. For him not to be in that squad is a disgrace."

MK Dons Under-18s lost 2-1 to Portsmouth at the weekend.

The Dons had taken the lead with quarter-of-an-hour on the clock when Reis Ashraf sent a brilliant curling free-kick into the top corner.

But Pompy's Jordan Hughes caught Laurie Walker stranded in goal with a lob to pull the scores level four minutes before the interval.

The visitors then clinched victory on the 69th minute when Paris Cowan-Hall won a penalty. Skipper Callum Reynolds converted.

Big night out for 'The Big Day Out'

FANS are being given a chance to relive MK Dons' Johnstone's Paint Trophy Final victory.

An official commemorative DVD of the Dons' 2-0 win over Grimsby Town at Wembley Stadium will be launched at stadiummk on Monday, April 21.

The whole Wembley squad alongside manager Paul Ince and chairman Pete Winkelman will be attending the special event.

The DVD, titled 'The Big Day Out', includes full match highlights, the road to Wembley, after-match interviews and exclusive extras.

Supporters will be given a unique insight to the build up and the aftermath of the game thanks to behind the scenes footage filmed by Dons' midfielder Paul Mitchell.

And if you did not manage to get your hands on the official match day programme, or left it on the train on the way home, you can also pick it up on the evening.

The limited edition DVD can be pre-ordered now via the MK Dons website www.mkdons.com or at the club shop.

The launch takes place at 6-8pm at the ballroom in stadiummk, entry is free.

■ JOHNSTONE'S Paint is asking fans who followed the Dons to Wembley to send them their photos of the big day out.

Johnstone's are on a nationwide mission to create an online gallery of Johnstone's Paint Trophy highlights throughout the 07/08 season.

FANS' FAVOURITE WRITES FOR YOU

PAUL MITCHELL

I DON'T think I've been involved in one Bucks derby match that has failed to live up to the billing. The game on Saturday was fantastic!

With both teams always wearing their hearts on their sleeves it turned out to be another cracker.

It took a brave man to get a very valuable point for us that takes us that tiny bit closer to the goal of promotion back to League One.

Full credit has to go to Sean as he has been playing the last few games with a broken nose but still found the courage to head home without considering the risk to himself.

That's the will to succeed the Gaffer has installed this year and that has been the difference between us and the rest so far.

The lads are putting everything into every game but our quality has never dropped. You have witnessed that whatever situation we are in we still try and play the right way and I think it's only been in the last couple of months that people have started to take notice of this.

I also don't think its any coincidence that the manager played this style of football when he was a player. The lads have adopted it as second nature, that steely determination but also a desire to get the ball down and play great football.

It's just one big match after another at this stage, at 'the business end of the season'. Hopefully by the time you're reading this, business will have been taken care of and we will have beaten a very good Hereford side. It will be no easy task but one which I can assure you we will be relishing.

Then it's Stockport who are very much in form. Having said that, each game to us now is a cup final and the lads will be playing as if their lives depended on it.

With three games left, this is when the crowd steps up and becomes the 12th man and pushes us home!

Lets make our voices heard and really finish strong.

Fans get money's worth in double overtime treat

MK LIONS 86
Brown 18, Williams 18, Jamison 14
NEWCASTLE EAGLES 93
Bridge 22, Leven 21, Stewart 16

Terrell Brown drives the baseline

A THRILLING encounter between BBL Cup champions MK Lions and BBL champions Newcastle Eagles had to be settled in two overtime periods.

Newcastle clinched the points when they rattled off 12 points in response to five from the Lions.

The two sides, who met in the BBL Cup final in January, put on a spectacle for the 900 fans who crammed in to Bletchley Leisure Centre to watch a fast and furious game.

The match did not disappoint as Darius Defoe put the first score on the board for Newcastle within minutes before Tony Windless's three-point and Shawn Jamison got the Lions rolling.

MK took the lead when Yorick Williams, Dru Spinks and Mike New got into full flow, but five from the Eagles' Lynard Stewart meant honours were even at the end of the first quarter.

Terrell Brown hit three triples as the Lions led 39-35 in the second stanza, before a 6-0 run from the Eagles saw them in front, only for Brown to hit another three and Williams to score on the buzzer as the Lions regained the advantage at 44-43 going into the half.

The third continued in the same fashion, Defoe hit points for the Eagles but Williams and Mike New combined for eight unanswered points as the Lions stretched their lead to 52-45.

Andrew Bridge's triple alongside Steve Leven's three-pointer saw the Eagles just one down at 62-61 going into the fourth.

Both teams thought they had it won in the fourth period after a Kevin Griffin triple sparked a 9-0 burst for the Lions, and a 71-64 lead.

However, a Fab Flournoy basket was followed by 10 straight from Leven gave Newcastle a 71-76 lead with two minutes remaining.

Griffin hit a triple and two free-throws before the Eagles made their way down the court and found Stewart inside and who levelled the game.

There were no early baskets in a low-scoring five minutes, as a pair of Bridge free-throws put Newcastle ahead before Griffin hit another three. Bridge was then fouled with five seconds left, and made one from two to force the second extra period.

Brown hit another three-pointer for an 84-83 lead for the hosts, then Stewart was fouled and left unable to take his free-throws. Brian McCotter checked in and tied the game at 84. Soon afterwards, Babalola hit a deep three and Bridge scored once more for an 86-89 Newcastle lead, before Babalola and Flournoy sealed it.

■ LIONS are away to Plymouth Raiders tonight, tip-off is at 7.30pm.

Poulter falls apart after 'flawless' opener

A DISAPPOINTING end to the US Masters overshadowed a promising spell for Ian Poulter.

The Woburn golf professional had made an impressive start to the 72nd Masters with an opening two-under 70 which included a hole-in-one on the 16th.

The 170-yard ace was the 21st hole-in-one at the Masters and the first since South African Trevor Immelman, who won this years competition with a three-stroke victory, holed out on 16 in 2005.

"The hairs on the back of my neck were standing up – there was an instant adrenaline rush. An unbelievable buzz. Probably the biggest I've had," he said.

"It was a pretty flawless ball-striking round, probably one of my best rounds."

But 30-year-old Poulter was unable to carry on his 'flawless' performance through the entire competition at Augusta National.

The British contingent of Justin Rose, Lee Westwood, Paul Casey and Poulter all raised eyebrows with decent starts as they all made the cut.

However, they all fell apart in the final two days losing any hope of wearing the famous green jacket.

Poulter carded a disappointing 78, finishing 12 shots behind champion Immelman tied in 25th.

Despite falling adrift of the leaders in the final day Poulter was satisfied with his performance.

He said: "I've not done an awful lot wrong, and there's no way I'm going to walk off today thinking that I've just had a 'mare'."

Promotion put on hold

Jemal Johnson is felled on the edge of the area

MK Dons have one foot in League One but still need a point to confirm their promotion.

A win last night would have been enough, yet Hereford United held the Dons to their first goalless draw of the season.

In theory the result is enough for the Dons, unless Stockport County win their remaining games and score plenty of goals in the process. However, a draw at Stockport on Saturday will mathematically cement a place in League One for the 2008/09 season.

Nothing fell in the Dons' favour in a one-sided second-half as Wayne Brown pulled off a string of saves to frustrate the league leaders.

Had the first 45 minutes been played in the same way it undoubtedly would have been a Dons victory.

There was little action or excitement in the opening half as both sides showed the nerves of teams looking to wrap up promotion as soon as possible.

It appeared Lloyd Dyer wanted to get hold of the game on the 16th minute when he collected a short free-kick from Keith Andrews, via a few Sean O'Hanlon touches, and powered in from the right to the edge of the 18-yard box. In a better position the speedy winger was the first to force a save from Wayne Brown, who did well to see through a crowded box to confidently collect.

Jemal Johnson then had a shot deflected over the bar before Gary Hooper headed wide at the other end in the Bulls' first real chance.

Twenty-six minutes gone and no closer to three points Danny Swailes thought he would lend a hand.

And it was not a bad decision as the centre-back sent a curling strike just outside the top corner.

The game was end-to-end and wide open, which usually makes for an entertaining spectacle but at stadiummk last night all the crowd wanted was for someone to stamp their authority and take command.

A great run by Simon Johnson could have injected the little bit of inspiration needed when his run took him through the field before the Dons' defence switched on.

Ben Smith pleaded for the ball on his left, yet he shot wide when a goal before the break would have given the Bulls plenty to smile about.

One minute after the interval and things were looking better for the Dons. A well thought out training ground free-kick, Dean Lewington low to Andrews, was unlucky not to come off as the chipped shot from Andrews' boot skimmed past the post.

Hereford had 'keeper Brown to thank for keeping the Dons at bay when he stopped Alan Navarro's pile driver at his near post.

Dyer had cut in from the left and pulled it back for Navarro whose low shot squeezed through the box only for Brown to get his hand to it.

Chants of 'we're going to score in a minute' sounded from the Cowshed on the 63rd minute after Dyer wasted a splendid opening ten yards out.

In lightning quick fashion Andrews linked with Wilbraham, who provided a back heel to John Miles and then Dyer had the ball, but somehow blasted over when he should have done better.

The Dons were bombing forward but Brown continued to deny them, first he tipped over a 30-yard strike by Miles, then his trailing leg kept out Mark Wright's close range knock.

Paul Ince's side were giving it their all, throwing everything forward but Hereford continued to hang on, if only by the skin of their teeth.

Clint Easton survived injury-time appeals of handball against him and the Dons had to settle for a point.

Having used their games in hand the Dons sit top of League Two, four points clear of second placed Peterborough with three games remaining.
